

IPTV Subscription 2026 — Best Plans, Prices & Free Trials for the USA & Canada

How to Buy an IPTV Subscription That Actually Holds Up on Live Nights

An IPTV subscription replaces a cable package with a plan you pay for month to month or year to year, streamed over your own broadband. This guide covers what a subscription actually includes in 2026, what monthly and yearly plans cost, how many connections you get, and how to test a plan on a free trial before any money changes hands.

Disclosure: Every provider listed below is a brand owned and operated by our own network. Figures come from each brand's official site. We don't list third-party services here, so nothing on this page is an independent comparison of the wider market — treat it as a first-party lineup.

What an IPTV Subscription Includes in 2026

Plans differ between brands, but a subscription across our network generally covers the same core set:

- Live channels — most brands publish 50,000+, spanning entertainment, news, and live event coverage
- On-demand library — from 18,000 up to 180,000+ titles depending on the brand
- Picture quality — HD as standard, 4K on supported channels and hardware
- Connections — how many screens can watch at once, from 1 up to 6
- EPG and catch-up — a program guide, and on some plans a rewind window of up to 7 days
- App support — IPTV Smarters Pro, TiviMate, Smarters Player Lite, Smart IPTV, Perfect Player

The number that matters least is the channel count. The one that matters most is whether the stream holds during peak evening hours — which is exactly what a trial is for.

Buy an IPTV Subscription: Monthly vs Yearly Plans

Every brand sells the same subscription on two clocks. Monthly keeps you flexible and costs more per month; yearly locks the lowest rate.

| Billing term | Typical price            | Best for                                            |
|--------------|--------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------|
| Monthly      | $14.99-$15/mo          | Testing a provider long-term, or seasonal viewing   |
| 3 months     | Small discount           | Covering one season without a full-year commitment  |
| 6 months     | Mid-tier discount        | A middle ground once you trust the service          |
| 12 months    | $8.33-$10/mo effective | Lowest cost per month once the trial has proven out |

Across the network, the cheapest yearly effective rate is BexyTV at $8.33/month ($100/year); TereaTV's yearly plan lands around $10/month. Monthly entry is lowest at VinomTV, $14.99.

The rule of thumb

Never buy a yearly subscription first. Run the free trial, then a single month during your real viewing hours, and only then move to annual. The saving on a yearly plan is real, but it's worthless if the service can't hold a live stream at 9pm.

Cheap IPTV Subscription — Where the Low Prices Actually Come From

A cheap IPTV subscription usually gets cheap in one of four ways, and only two of them are good for you:

- Longer billing term — the honest discount; you prepay, they discount
- Fewer connections — a $8/mo single-connection plan isn't cheaper than a $15 six-connection plan if you have three TVs
- Thinner support — the cost shows up the first night something breaks
- Oversold servers — the price holds, the stream doesn't

Compare on cost per connection per month, not on headline price. A $15 plan covering six screens is $2.50 per screen; an $8 single-connection plan is $8.

IPTV Subscription With a Free Trial — Test Before You Pay

Every brand in our network offers a trial, and several need no card at all, so there's nothing to cancel and no auto-billing to forget about. A trial is only useful if you run it properly:

- 1. Start it during the hours you actually watch — prime time, not a quiet weekday morning
- 2. Test on the device you'll really use, not just a phone on Wi-Fi
- 3. Open a live event stream, not only on-demand titles — on-demand almost always looks fine
- 4. Run every screen at once if you're buying a multi-connection plan
- 5. Message support once during the trial and time the reply

| BexyTV     | $15/mo       | $8.33/mo        | 1            | —        |

FreeGoTV — The Longest-Running Subscription

Running since 2013, the most established plan in the network. 50,000+ channels, 150,000+ on-demand titles, 4K, from $15/month, up to six simultaneous connections with no IP lock, and a card-free trial. Firestick setup uses Downloader code 3603401.

TereaTV — Deepest On-Demand Subscription

The largest catalog here: 180,000+ titles alongside 50,000+ live channels, 4K with HDR10+ on supported channels, across 26 edge servers. Yearly works out to roughly $10/month, with a card-free 24-hour trial.

BexyTV — Cheapest Yearly Subscription

Down to $8.33/month on the annual plan ($100/year), from $15 monthly. Its differentiator is a browser-based web player, so you can watch without installing anything, plus a card-free 24-hour trial. Plans are single-connection.

VinomTV — Cheapest Monthly & Family-Safe

The lowest monthly entry at $14.99, with 50,000+ channels, 180,000+ on-demand titles, a 7-day rewind, up to 5 devices, and a completely adult-free catalog for households with children.

KroozTV — Transparent Per-Device Pricing

Priced per device from $6.67 across 1–6 device tiers, so the cost of a second or third screen is visible up front rather than buried in a bundle. Marketed on peak-hour stability. Firestick code 3864080.

VocoTV — Subscription Tuned to North American Prime Time

50,000+ channels and 180,000+ on-demand titles on servers optimized for US and Canadian time zones, with priority chat support and no IP lock. From $15/month, up to six screens.

ViewTVY — Widest App Compatibility

Built for people who already have a preferred player: IPTV Smarters Pro, TiviMate, Smart IPTV, and Perfect Player all work, across the USA, Canada, and Australia, with 1–5 connection tiers and terms from 1 to 12 months.

EarthWebTV — Lean Live-First Subscription

36,000+ live channels with an 18,000+ on-demand shelf — the smallest catalog in the network, built for viewers who care about live coverage rather than a large movie vault.

IPTV Subscription for the USA & Canada

North American viewers should weigh three things above channel count. Server location — a provider with edge servers tuned to US and Canadian time zones will hold up better during your evening than one routing you overseas. Local and regional coverage — check that the specific regional channels you watch are actually in the lineup before you commit. Peak-hour behaviour — North American prime time is when oversold servers show their limits, which is why the trial has to run in those hours.

VocoTV is built specifically around US/Canada peak hours; Tereatv runs 26 edge servers across North America and Europe; ViewTVY adds Australia and expat channels if your household watches across regions.

How Many Connections Does Your Subscription Need?

| Household              | Connections | Fits                               |
|------------------------|-------------|------------------------------------|
| One viewer, one screen | 1           | BexyTV, entry tiers                |
| Couple, two rooms      | 2           | Most mid tiers                     |
| Family, 3–4 screens    | 4–5         | VinomTV, ViewTVY                   |
| Large household        | 6           | FreeGoTV, VocoTV, KroozTV, Tereatv |

A connection is a simultaneous stream, not a device — you can install the app on more devices than your plan allows, you just can't watch on all of them at the same time. Plans without an IP lock also let you watch away from home without re-registering.

How to Activate Your IPTV Subscription

Once a plan is purchased you'll receive login credentials — usually a username, password, and server URL for Xtream Codes, or an M3U playlist link. Setup takes a few minutes:

Firestick

1. Install Downloader from the Amazon App Store.
2. Enable Apps from Unknown Sources for Downloader.
3. Enter your provider's code (FreeGoTV 3603401, KroozTV 3864080).
4. Install, then log in with your subscription or trial credentials.

Android phone or box

1. Install IPTV Smarters Pro from the Play Store.
2. Choose Login with Xtream Codes API.
3. Enter username, password, and server URL.

iPhone / iPad

1. Get Smarters Player Lite from the App Store.
2. Choose Xtream Codes API, or import an M3U playlist.
3. Add your credentials.

Samsung / LG Smart TV

1. Open the Samsung App Store or LG Content Store.
2. Install Smarters Player Lite, IBO Player, or Smart IPTV.
3. Enter your Xtream Codes or M3U details.

What you need

- At least 15 Mbps for HD, around 25 Mbps for 4K
- A supported device — Firestick, Android TV, Smart TV, phone, tablet, MAG box, Windows or Mac
- Optionally a VPN, for privacy or if your ISP throttles streaming

Before You Renew: A Short Checklist

- Did it hold during peak hours? — the only test that matters
- How fast was support? — measure it before renewal, not after
- Are your connections enough? — count the screens actually in use at once
- Is the on-demand catalog being updated? — size means nothing if nothing new lands
- Is the price per connection still competitive? — recalculate at renewal, not just at signup
- Is billing clear? — know the renewal date and whether it auto-charges

IPTV Subscription vs Cable

| Factor           | Cable              | IPTV subscription   |
|------------------|--------------------|---------------------|
| Monthly cost     | $80-$130+        | $8.33-$15         |
| Contract         | Often 12-24 months | Usually none        |
| Equipment rental | Yes                | None                |
| Screens          | Box per TV         | Up to 6 connections |
| On-demand        | Limited or add-on  | Large, included     |
| 4K               | Premium tiers      | Widely available    |
| Depends on       | Provider's line    | Your broadband      |

The trade is straightforward: an IPTV subscription costs a fraction of cable and drops the contract and the box rental, but it leans entirely on your internet connection and on the provider's server capacity — neither of which shows up in the advertised price.

Subscription Problems and Fixes

Buffering or freezing

- Confirm speed: 15+ Mbps for HD, 25+ for 4K
- Switch to Ethernet or 5 GHz Wi-Fi
- Close background downloads and other streaming apps
- Try a VPN if your ISP throttles video traffic

Subscription won't log in

- Recheck username, password, and server URL for typos
- Confirm the plan or trial is still active and hasn't expired
- Make sure you're using the right login type — Xstream Codes vs M3U
- Check whether you've exceeded your connection limit on other screens

Guide (EPG) not loading

- Force an EPG refresh in the app
- Allow a few minutes after first login for the guide to populate

If the same fault follows you across devices and across networks, it's the provider's servers rather than your setup — and that's a renewal decision, not a troubleshooting one.

IPTV Subscription FAQ

How much does an IPTV subscription cost in 2026?

Across our network, monthly plans run $14.99–$15. Yearly plans bring the effective rate down to roughly $10/month with TereaTV and $8.33/month with BexyTV. KroozTV prices per device from $6.67.

Which IPTV subscription is best for most households?

For a family with several screens, a six-connection plan like FreeGoTV or VocoTV is the better value per screen. For a single viewer on a budget, BexyTV's annual plan is the cheapest per month. For households with children, VinomTV's catalog is entirely adult-free.

Can I try an IPTV subscription before buying?

Yes. Every brand in our network offers a free trial, and several require no card, so nothing auto-bills you afterwards.

Is a monthly or yearly IPTV subscription better?

Start monthly. Yearly is meaningfully cheaper per month, but only commit once the service has proven stable during your own peak viewing hours.

How many devices can use one subscription?

It depends on the plan — from a single connection up to six. Note that a connection is a simultaneous stream, not an installed app; you can set up more devices than you can watch on at once.

What internet speed does an IPTV subscription need?

About 15 Mbps for reliable HD, and roughly 25 Mbps for smooth 4K.

Which devices work with an IPTV subscription?

Firestick, Android TV boxes, Android and iOS phones and tablets, Samsung and LG Smart TVs, MAG boxes, Windows, and Mac — through IPTV Smarters Pro, TiviMate, or Smarters Player Lite.

Do I need a VPN with an IPTV subscription?

It's optional. A VPN adds privacy and can help if your ISP throttles streaming traffic, but it isn't required for the service to work.

Is an IPTV subscription legal?

The technology itself is legal. Whether any given service is legal depends on its content licensing and on the laws where you live — only stream content that is legally available in your country.

The Short Version

An IPTV subscription in 2026 costs between $8.33 and $15 a month depending on how long you commit and how many screens you need. The cheapest plan is rarely the best value once you divide by connections, and no price is worth anything until the service has survived a live evening on your own hardware. Start on a free trial, watch during your real hours, then buy the term that fits.
